Best Reading Phonics — Long Vowels

Developed by Cathy Jackson | Illustrated by Graham Ross

In more than 30 years as an educator, Cathy Jackson noticed the lack of resources designed with students' abilities in mind. She then decided to create fun characters and light-hearted situations in short stories, teaching a few letter sounds and sight words in each book. The letter and word activities grew as she noted the need for reinforcement through play. Her students' enthusiasm and engagement encouraged her to develop her resources to offer them a stronger reading foundation. Now, her dream is brought to life in the comprehensive Best Reading Phonics program and is helping children everywhere learn to read and write.
